VAN AKEN COMING BACK TO JAIL

Edwin Van Aken, whose conviction for the murder of his wife at Port Jervis in October, 1914, was reversed this week by the court of appeals because of legal errors in the admission of certain evidence during the trial, will be brought from Sing Sing prison to the Ulster county jail by Sheriff Shultis and will remain in jail until he is tried again. The sheriff went to Sing Sing this morning by automobile to bring Van Aken to Kingston.

The sheriff was accompanied by Corporation Counsel W. D. Brinnier, Van Aken's attorney, who took Judge Jenkins' order to serve on Warden Kirkway of Sing Sing. They expect to bring Van Aken back to jail by night.

An order for Van Aken's removal from Sing Sing to the jail was granted by Judge Jenkins on Friday afternoon on the application of Van Aken's counsel, Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier. The writ of habeas corpus was granted on the ground that the court of appeals had reversed the conviction on legal errors.

After Van Aken's conviction and sentence of death, he was removed to Sing Sing prison. The court of appeals having directed that he be tried again, he is in the same position as though he never had been tried, and therefore cannot remain in a state prison but must be confined in jail instead.

DR. JOHNSTON IS NOT CORSET EXPERT

Health Officer's Name is Used Without Permission as Advocating Use of Corsets Being Sold by Woman Agent in City.

While Dr. Frank A. Johnston, the city's health officer, is a reputable physician and an expert on the common ailments of mankind, yet he does not lay claim to being an expert on the question of which is the best corset on the market for women. This, of course, is preliminary to and leading up to the fact that it has been called to his attention that a woman agent selling corsets for an out of town concern is stating that the corset is the best on the market and is advocated by Dr. Johnston.

From what could be learned, it seems that a woman is making a house to house canvass selling the housewives corsets. It is understood that the price asked is $2. As a closing argument to her selling paper she clinches a sale with the statement that the corset must be good or it would not be advocated by the health officer.

As Dr. Johnston had not seen the agent or the corset she was handling, he was somewhat surprised when some of his friends informed him that his name was being used to help along the sale.

While the corset sold by the agent may not be all that is claimed for it, yet it would seem best for housewives to patronize home trade.

FOR ANOTHER JUDGE. Senate Passes Bill That Many Think is Needless.

By a majority of one vote, the bill of Senator Arden L. Norton of Cobleskill, Schenectady county, providing for the election of an additional supreme court justice in the Third judicial district at the next general election was passed by the senate on Friday afternoon. There were twenty-six votes recorded for the bill and eleven against.

Senator George B. Wellington of Troy opposed the bill on the ground that the supreme court calendars show no need of any additional justice of the court, and as a lawyer, he said, he knew that conditions do not warrant the addition.

Senator Robert F. Wagner, the minority leader, referred to a published interview with Justice William F. Ridd of Albany. Declaring that no need exists for another justice, Senator Wagner said he was willing to take the testimony of a member of the bench affected. He declared that the bill was a political move and expressed the belief that the person for the position already had been selected.

Senator Wagner's suggestion was denied by Senator Henry M. Sage of Albany county, who said there is a great need of another justice in the Third district, and members of the bar have testified to this. Picking the justice, he said, is up to the people, for there is no provision in the bill even for a temporary appointment.

When the roll was called it was found the bill lacked by three votes enough for passage. Senators Robert R. Lawson of Brooklyn and Alfred J. Gilchrist of Brooklyn, Republicans, changed their votes from negative to affirmative. The bill still lacked one vote necessary to pass, and Senator Elton R. Brown, the majority leader, asked for unanimous permission to vote Senator Ogden L. Mills of New York, who had been excused, and who had requested him to vote him on party measures. Senator Wagner suggested that this was not a party measure. Before Senator Brown's request was acted on, Senator Samuel J. Ransperger of Buffalo, who had not been recorded, voted in the affirmative, and the bill was passed.

GALE BREAKS DOWN SEVERAL TREES

Friday night's stiff wind was disastrous to many trees and telephone wires in the city. A large maple on Clinton avenue, near the corner of John street was unable to withstand the attack of the gale which blew over the lowlands and crashed through telephone and electric wires across the street to the house of Mrs. Stephen D. Hood. The big tree fell on the roof of the house but fortunately no damage was done aside from some shattered shutters and a dented roof over the porch. The men of the New York Telephone Company were called out and were working in removing the tree. Traffic through this street was tied up by the tree. This tree was blown over at 9:25.

At about the same time a gust of wind blew over a smaller tree in front of the residence of David V. Westbrook on Fair street, between St. James and Franklin streets. It also fell across the street and landed just in front of a house, damaging only the wires. For forty minutes residents of this section were without lights.

Six slight interruptions in other sections of the city were caused by wires blowing together. These troubles were quickly remedied by the Kingston Gas & Electric Company.

PREPARING NOTE TO SEND TO BERLIN

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 15.—The stage was set today for the final windup of the controversy between the United States and Germany over the illegal attacks by submarines on unarmed merchantmen. Secretary of State Lansing spent two hours digesting the affidavits and evidence dealing with the Sussex, Manchester Engineer, Englishman and other recent cases in which American rights were violated. He prepared a voluminous digest of this evidence which he sent to the White House and which now is before the president. It will be incorporated in the note which the president expects to send to Berlin within the next two days.

Reports that Ambassador Gerard already has been notified to get the affairs of his office in shape so that he can leave Berlin were said in official circles to be "premature." No such order has been sent, Secretary Lansing said. That it will go if Germany does not change her present attitude is certain. But officials who received through the International News Service the report of the important series of conferences now in session in Berlin were inclined to hope that concessions yet will be made. It is known here that the Berlin foreign office is most anxious to prevent any break because of the influences that it inevitably must have upon the other neutral nations. But whether, in the present state of public opinion in Germany concessions that will satisfy the United States can be made was a subject on which no responsible official would hazard an opinion.

Count von Bernstorff refused to discuss the outlook at all. He evaded all questions dealing with the message that is known to have been received from his home government during the last two days. But it was learned that he personally has emphasized to his government the fact that the reply in the Sussex case is considered here as being evasive and in every way contradicted by what the president and his advisers consider completely convincing evidence. What effect that will have no one here can say.

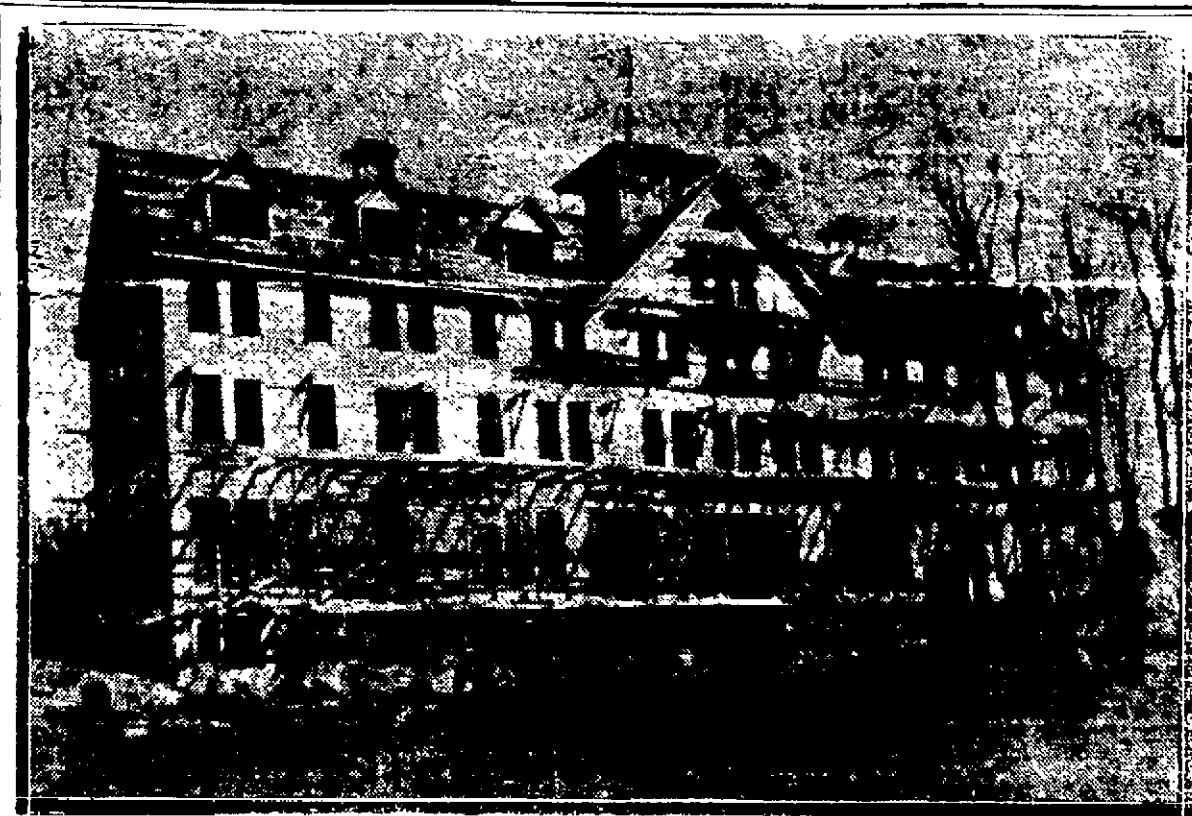

Senator Stone, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, today asked Secretary Lansing to take the senate and house committees into his confidence on the international situation. He was told that the president would do so, but that he might not be able to do this before tomorrow night or Monday morning. The administration wants its entire program mapped out before it explains what it intends to do.

GIRLS TAKE BOYS' PLACES.

State Fair Commission Host for Agriculture Students.

Girls instead of boys will be the guests of the State Fair Commission during state fair week at Syracuse this year. It has been the custom of late to select 150 farm boys from the various counties as a mark of honor to spend a week at the state fair upon the grounds as the guests of the state. This year the fair commission decided to change about and give the girls a chance. They will be selected from the schools of the state where courses of agriculture are taught. They will be quartered in the building used last year as a restaurant, which is being converted into a huge dormitory. Commissioner Calvin J. Huson will care for the young women.

Pigs Safe in Rhinebeck. Rhinebeck is at rest over rumors as to whether pigs were barred from the limits of the village. There is no law or ordinance against it, according to the Gazette.

WHERE IS THE LINE?

Shawangunk Claims the Stream Moved Into Sullivan County.

A hearing was had at Monticello on Friday before William E. Thorpe of Catskill as referee in the proceeding brought by the town of Mamakating, Sullivan county, against the town of Shawangunk, Ulster county, to compel the latter to build a town line bridge over the Plattekill creek, on the road leading from Burlington, Sullivan county, to Ulsterville, Ulster county. The town of Mamakating claims that the Plattekill creek forms the boundary line between the towns and that the bridge in question is a town line as well as a county line bridge. The town of Shawangunk claims that the original channel of the creek was changed by artificial means about sixty-five years ago by Stansbury Gillespie to the now existing channel, and that the creek at the point where the bridge is located and the bridge itself are both entirely within the bounds of Sullivan county. Judge George H. Smith of Monticello appeared for the town of Mamakating and County Attorney John W. Eckert of Kingston appeared for the town of Shawangunk.

NEW SUMMER HOTEL BUILT NEAR RIFTON

Grand View White House Will Open on Memorial Day and Will Have Quarters for 300 Boarders.

Grand View White House, the newest large summer resort in the vicinity of this city, will have its formal public opening on Memorial Day, when everybody will be invited to inspect the property and its many attractions. A large force of men has been working all winter erecting the building, which, as the picture shows, is still incomplete, although under the able management of J. White, superintendent of the work, it is expected to have it in readiness for the opening of May 30, when there will be band music, an elaborate dinner and other attractions.

The owner is the N. B. S. Holding Company of New York city, J. A. Shapiro, president, and the hotel, which will accommodate 300 guests, will be equipped with bowling alley, bar, gas and electric light, running water and all other modern improvements. Heat and water will be supplied by plants installed in connection with the hotel. The electric current being generated by a gasoline engine and an acetylene gas generator having been installed.

Facilities for rowing, bathing, boating and other outdoor sports will be at hand and the surrounding scenery is not excelled anywhere. The hotel is reached from Ulster Park station on the West Shore Railroad by what is locally known as the Powder Mill road, a road that runs from Union Center to the Kingston-New Paltz state road at Swartekill, near the site of the old Latine & Rand powder mills, which were abandoned and dismantled several years ago. The hotel management will run its own automobile stage line from Ulster Park to the hotel. Guests coming by river boats will reach the hotel by going from this city on Hiltzbrandt's automobile stage line.

The building stands on an elevation, about five minutes walk from the state road, and is surrounded by an extensive tract of land. From its windows and porches a magnificent view may be had. It is expected that the Grand View White House will not only entertain guests from the larger cities, but will be a resort that many Kingstonians will visit during the season.

Frankfort—In setting aside a $596 verdict awarded a coal miner who alleged he had been kicked by a mule, the court of appeals declared that the mule has a right to kick and "would be false to every tradition of his breed if he had not kicked."

Death Won Second Time.

To escape drowning in the Hudson river off Tivoli, Thursday forenoon, when his boat capsized, only to meet death on the tracks of the New York Central Railroad a few minutes later, was the fate of Frank Potts, 52 years old, of Tivoli.

SHERIFF LEVIES ON CONTRACTORS' TOOLS

The sheriff of Dutchess county, under a judgment obtained by J. T. Freleigh, has levied upon the wagons, cars, tools and other property of the Ruddy, Saunders Construction Company at Red Hook and will sell the same on Monday, April 17, at 10 o'clock.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed by three creditors of Kingston at Ulster in the U. S. District Court on April 6, the case is returnable at Ulster on April 18. D. G. Atkins, who is the attorney in the bankruptcy proceedings, has obtained an injunction from Judge Ray of the U. S. District Court at Syracuse, upon the petition of A. H. Chambers, one of the petitioning creditors, restraining and enjoining the sheriff of Dutchess county from selling the property on Monday at Red Hook and served the same upon the sheriff today. The property was supposed to belong to a party in Beacon under a bill of sale.

The creditors from the counties of Albany, Delaware, Dutchess, Rockland and Ulster are very much interested in the bankruptcy proceedings as they hope in a few days to examine the officers of the company about the money and property they have disposed of. Order in supplementary proceedings have been served upon the officers of the company for the purpose of examining them, but they have been adjourned on account of an injunction issued by the U. S. District Court upon application of the company alleging the bankruptcy proceedings so no creditors so far have been able to find out anything.

The Ruddy, Saunders Construction Company drew $30,000 for the Highway Department at Albany on February 29, 1916 and on March 1 sold under bills of sales all of their property to different people and did not pay any of their creditors. No one knows how much they owe or what they did with the money and this is what a number of the local creditors are anxious to find out.

The Ruddy, Saunders Construction Company built the road from Ulster Park to the Lloyd town line last year and it is from this section of the road that some of the money secured on February 29 was due. The creditors in this city are principally people who supplied the company with material while this road was being constructed.

CIRCUS WINTER QUARTERS HERE?

Reports are current that the proprietors of Barnum and Bailey's circus, which shows here next month, are looking over Kingston with a view to removing the extensive winter quarters of the plant from Bridgeport, Conn., to this city. A land occupied by the circus people in East Bridgeport has gone up in value because of the boom in munitions manufacturing and a new site is being considered, as the neighborhood of munitions plants makes the less desirable for circus quarters.

Kingston with its unsurpassed shipping facilities and its proximity to New York is said to be ideal from the standpoint of the circus men. None of the latter could be located, however, and whether the tale is but the work of the busy street liar remains to be seen and not heard.

Bird Day is Observed.

Bird Day was observed in the public schools of Kingston Friday, the second occasion of the kind in the state. Each pupil in many of the grades wore a picture of some well known feathered visitor or other in other grades some of the exercises dealt with bird life.

SCHERMERHORN BOY AGAIN IN TROUBLE

Boy Who Shot Abie Bacharach Charged With Entering and Damaging a Vacant House—Trial Adjourned Until Thursday.

Frank Schermernhorn, the thirteen year old boy who shot Abie Bacharach some time ago, is again in trouble, and was arraigned this morning before Recorder Lung on the complaint of A. H. Gildersleeve, the Broadway produce merchant, charging the boy with breaking into a vacant house on Martin's Lane and doing considerable damage to the interior of the house.

Mr. Gildersleeve, who lodged the complaint, was represented by Newton H. Fessenden, while Edward A. McKiernan appeared in behalf of the boy and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. The trial was adjourned until Thursday morning and the boy was paroled in the custody of Mr. McKiernan.

From what could be learned it is claimed that Schermernhorn boy was leader of a gang of boys who broke into a vacant house and broke a number of windows and damaged the walls and ceilings.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Friday morning in the assembly Mr. Powley, an officer in the recent automobile show awarded the prizes for the drawings made by the students for that exhibit. In addition to the prizes which were at first offered, that is the first four which went to Edwin Koch, Louis Longyear, Robert Adams, and Sabler Hornbeck, there were also given out 10 or more other prizes of one dollar each in consideration of the admirable work done by the boys who received them.

Also in assembly Friday morning the biology classes celebrated Bird Day. As biology is a subject mostly taken by freshmen it happened that the program was entirely in the hands of first year pupils. Elman Douthett first read an article on the meaning of Bird Day. Martha Dickson next handled the subject, "Do Birds Think," and then Robert Ganeer read an article on the value of bird protection.

Variety Show Tonight.

This evening the girls will give a Variety Show in the high school auditorium. By a Variety Show is meant a program composed of a minstrel show, a concert, a pantomime, and several other things thrown in. The G. A. A. which is giving it wish to make a little money yet they are only charging 10 cents admission. The girls have worked this entertainment up on rather short notice but there is every reason to believe it will be a success. The show begins at 8 o'clock and afterwards there will be dancing in the gymnasium.

Mr. Schumaker called a meeting of the track men Friday afternoon to discuss track work. There are prospects of entering several meets this year, and if the difficulty of finding a suitable place to practice can be overcome there is no reason why the combined athletes of up and down town cannot clean up the surrounding country as usual.

This afternoon the high school fellows played a practice game of baseball with The Freeman team. No admission was charged as it was a practice game, and as it was the first game of the high school's season considerable interest was shown. The paper went to press before the game was decided, so the results will probably be given later.

Friday afternoon there was a debate on the question: Resolved, that U. S. should form a protectorate over Mexico. The presentation of the arguments on both sides was well thought out. All who took part were first or second year men, so the outlook for a debating team to follow up the work of this year and next year is not so bad. The debate was won by the affirmative which was taken by Leeper (leader) Greene and Leventhal, while the unpopular side of the question was ably defended by Van Aken (leader) Clapp and Boice.

The Junior play to be given next Wednesday evening is progressing rapidly, and everything and everybody including the teachers, junior class, printing department, etc., are straining to make it a success. A great many tickets have been sold, and everything points to the wisest results of this low priced entertainment.

A Public Improvement.

The outer office in the county clerk's office has been changed and altered within the past few days and presents a much neater appearance. The old desk and wire cage has been removed and in its place County Clerk Loughran has had placed a new desk. Not only is the appearance of the office improved, but the work carried on in that department is facilitated. The new filing cabinets recently purchased have also been installed and the office now presents a neat and new appearance.

A Secondhand Auto Show.

A secondhand automobile show is to be held in Poughkeepsie next month. It will be staged on one of the main business streets.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, April 15.—There was a strong tone to the stock market at the opening today, with nearly all the important issues showing moderate gains, but the improvement was not sustained, buying orders being filled quickly. Before the end of the first fifteen minutes recessions were in order. The Mexican stocks made the greatest improvement, Mexican Petroleum opening 1/4 higher at 102 1/2, American Smelting up 1/2 at 98 1/2 and Greene Cananea up one at 47. There was also moderate gain in the copper shares in the first few minutes and the specialties were active and strong at the outset.

Cruible Steel started 1/4 higher at 90 1/2, followed by a quick reaction to 89 1/2. New Haven started 1/2 higher at 62 1/2, and other railway issues rose fractionally. American Smelting was supplied after the first sale and dropped to 97 1/2. Marine preferred opened 1/4 higher at 73 1/2 and receded to 72 1/2. Steel Common after opening unchanged to 83 1/2, yielded to 83 1/2.

The tone at the close was strong. A broader demand was shown for many of the important issues in the last hour. When trading moved up 1/2 to above 83 and the same amount of gain was made in New York Central. Steel Common also showed a firm tone, recovering the fractional loss sustained in the first fifteen minutes and rallies were noted in American Smelting and Mexican Petroleum. American Zinc was the most active of the specialties, advancing 1 1/2 to 94 1/2, and fractional gains were made in Butte and Superior. American Steel and Industrial showed New Haven and Chesapeake and Ohio also showed a good tone in the final dealings, making fractional gains. Government bonds unchanged.

Little Betty's Query.

The other day, little Betty, aged three, was sitting on my lap as I was cutting pictures of birds from a paper and sticking them to the window for her amusement. She started jumping around and as I had the scissors in my hand, I told her she must be careful. She at once looked at me and said, "Will I scare the birds away?"—Beckham.

To Mend China.

Put the pieces together carefully, tie firmly and boil in sweet milk for half an hour. China mended in this way will last for years. When washing, use fine china wash, place two Turkish towels, one crossing the other, in the dishpan before filling it with hot water. Put only a dish or two in the pan at a time. Chinaware will not be likely to get nicked if this plan is followed.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church met in the basement on Thursday, April 13, to do some quilting. There were twenty ladies present. Three quilts were quilted, and a most enjoyable time was spent while working. At 12 o'clock a most bountiful dinner was served by four of the members of the aid. Mrs. Benson Elmendorf, Mrs. Cyrus Gillespie, Mrs. J. M. Barnhart and Mrs. Oscar Church. Such a bountiful dinner was served that it was feared the ladies would not be able to resume their quilting. After partaking of it all went to work with a zest and three quilts were finished. Some of the ladies returned in the evening to finish one of them. At the business meeting arrangements were made for the reception on Thursday and a committee was appointed. It was also decided that the next meeting should be held in the basement and the quilt which was not finished, be quilted at this meeting. Everyone present Thursday, enjoying themselves, both with the quilting and dinner. Great credit should be given the ladies who served the meal. THE KITCHEN CABINET

Be consistent in your economy. Don't try to save on the necessities of life. To do so is false economy, but to practice your economies on those things you do not actually need—the luxuries of life.

DIETES FOR THE INVALIDS.

The necessary requisites for an invalid's service are wholesomeness of food, appropriate kinds for the person served and prompt and dainty service. Do not confer with the invalid as to what he would like to eat, for the various surprises will help to tickle his appetite.

The tray on which the food is served should be covered with a spotless napkin, folded to cover a good-sized tray. The smallest, prettiest dishes should be placed on it and everything in an orderly manner. All hot foods should be served hot and cold foods cold on well-chilled dishes.

For a fever patient, fruit juice in cold water makes most refreshing drinks. Serve in small glasses rather than in too large quantities. This is a rule which should be observed in all serving to sick people.

Oatmeal Gruel.—Take two-thirds of a cupful of oatmeal, add three pints of boiling water and a teaspoonful of salt; cook for two and a half hours in a double boiler. Remove from the fire and strain. When using for a patient, use half a cupful of the gruel with a half cupful of thin cream, two tablespoonfuls of boiling water and sugar to taste. A grating of nutmeg or cinnamon may be added in some cases. Other gruels may be prepared in the same manner, using barley, cornmeal, rice or farina.

Chicken Custard.—Take a cupful and a half of crumbs from the center of a loaf, add to them two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped chicken breast. Beat the yolks of two eggs until well mixed, add to them a dash of celery salt, a pinch of salt and a cupful of milk. Mix all well and pour into a custard cup set in hot water and bake until the custard is set. Serve hot.

Simple custards are both wholesome and dainty to serve to an invalid. Float-island, with small cubes of jelly on the egg white, makes a most attractive dish which will be especially pleasing to children. The sight must be appealing to the sick, so a study of pretty combinations pleasing to the eye is worth while.

CURTAIN FALLS ON PINK FARM DRAMA

A deed filed with the county clerk today afternoon brought to a close the thrilling real estate drama started by several Kingstonsians about a four days' run. That this drama was staged before a crowded house can not be stated but it did end happily—for the real estate agent who made the sale. The first chapter was "reviewed" in Thursday night's Freeman and told how the real estate dealer and a process server were patrolling the street in front of the man who was to sell the property. He squirmed his way through the sentinels and signed his contract while the two men walked their beat.

Mr. H. Merritt, the John street agent, is the successful dealer and the hero of the play. William F. Abernethy, the defeated dealer, occupies a stellar position in the ranks of the actors while the other prominent roles are taken by William Scott, owner until Friday afternoon of the farm formerly owned by Fred V. Merritt on the road leading from Lucas turnpike to Whiteport, and Charles Gruber, the purchaser. The scene is laid at the farm, of course, and for that reason the play may be termed "The Pink Farm Episode," because for many years the farm was occupied by the family of the late Nelson Pink.

As a prologue to the "review" in the Freeman, it should be stated that Scott put the property in the hands of S. H. Merritt and Abernethy. S. H. Merritt, the hero, maneuvered matters so that Scott was to exchange property with Gruber, who owns land on St. Mary street, Gruber to pay an extra amount to even the sale. To use a real estate term, a sale and exchange was made.

The scene is shifted. We are now in Andrew J. Cook's office on John street on Friday afternoon. The actors are Mr. Cook, Abernethy and S. H. Merritt. Mr. Abernethy claims to be entitled to a share of the commission, saying that he was given exclusive control of the sale. Mr. Merritt "offers as evidence" in contradiction to Mr. Abernethy's claim, that Mr. Scott, who both flatly deny ever entering into a contract with Abernethy whereby he should have sole charge of the sale. The scene ends with the exchange of the deed spelling Mr. Abernethy's downfall. Mr. Merritt is triumphant and the rest happy. Like all good people in an instance of the kind, the process server has made his exit, never more to return. Thus endeth the adventures of the "Pink Farm" episode.

Bishop Stuntz's Lecture.
Bishop Homer Stuntz delivered a highly informative lecture on South America Friday night before a large audience gathered in St. James' A. E. Church. Vast distances and even vaster resources of our sister continent were presented in sharp contrast with the lightful, breezy lack of opportunity to the immigrant because of the large landholding estates. The hope for remedying the appalling spiritual deprivation in South America lay with such forces as the recent religious congress at Panama of whose outcome he gave a most illuminating account. The opportunity to hear Bishop Stuntz upon such a timely topic was much appreciated by all present.

BILL FOR REFRIGERATOR.
Judge Brinrier Decided That Mr. Israel Should Pay It.

Tuesday morning the city court room was the scene of a lively trial when the action brought by the Herbert Carl Dry Goods Company against Samuel Israel was brought to the attention of City Judge Brinrier. The action was brought to recover $20 for the purchase of a refrigerator alleged to have been sold to Mr. Israel on April 19 1915. Mr. Israel in his answer to the complaint stated that the refrigerator had been bought and paid for and he set up a counter claim for $2 for work done by him for the company.

It seems that Mr. Israel had been running an account with the Carl Company for some time, and the books of the Company, produced in evidence, showed that a check for $15.90 given on February 25, 1915, and dated March 20 of that year, had balanced the account up to March 1. On March 4 it was claimed that Mr. Israel had bought a bill of goods on a conditional contract of sale and on April 10 of that year, according to the testimony of Mr. Koch for plaintiff, the refrigerator was sold to Mr. Israel and delivered.

Mr. Israel produced in court the canceled check dated March 20 of that year, and claimed that he bought the refrigerator about March 10, and that the difference between the price of the refrigerator and the check was for work done by him for the company. Mr. Israel also said on cross examination that he had never given the Carl Company any check dated ahead.

Both Mr. Gorman and Mr. Rose of the firm, testified in rebuttal that they had personal knowledge of the giving of the check for $15.90; that it was given February 25, and it was dated March 20, and was in settlement of the old balance due in February. Their testimony was corroborated by the company's ledger which bore an entry of the date the check was given and that it was dated ahead.

After hearing the testimony the court decided in favor of the Carl Company for the amount claimed besides the costs of the action.

Newton H. Fessenden appeared for the Carl Company, while Frank W. Brooks appeared for Mr. Israel.

CITY STREETS TO BE REPAIRED

Board of Public Works Decide on What Streets Are to Be Repaired—Other Street Problems Considered.

The board of public works held a special meeting on Friday afternoon to consider what city streets should be repaired and outlined enough work to keep the street department busy for some time. Tuesday afternoon the board made a tour of inspection of the streets to ascertain just what streets needed repairs.

At the meeting a resolution was passed that the superintendent repair the following streets under the direction of the street committee:

Albany avenue from Broadway to the railroad bridge.
Wall street from Maiden Lane to Henry street.
Henry street from Wall to Prospect street.
Smith avenue from Garden to Prince street.
Prince street from Hasbrouck to Foxhall avenue.
East Strand from the brick pavement to Kingston Point.
Railroad avenue and Thomas street.
Fair street from Main to Henry street.
St. James street from Wall street to Broadway.
West Pierpont street from Hone to Adams street.
Clinton avenue from Pearl to Cedar street.
Hasbrouck avenue from railroad crossing a Mill street to Central Post-office.

To Raise Retaining Wall.
Superintendent Van Keuren was ordered to lay a wall on the present retaining wall on the high road. The wall to be three feet high and two feet thick. The blue stone blocks on the Strand will be used for that purpose. The idea of laying another wall on top of the present wall is to increase its height.

To Store Material on Street.
Campbell & Dempsey applied for permission to place building material on Fair street in front of the old Kelder residence and on the same street in front of the Stuyvesant Hotel. Permission was granted the material to be stored under the supervision of Superintendent Van Keuren.

Ordered To Lay Walk.
The clerk of the board was directed to notify W. F. Rafferty to lay a sidewalk on Hasbrouck avenue near Foxhall avenue within thirty days, or the work would be done by the city at Mr. Rafferty's expense.

Trees on Washington Ave.
The matter of removing a number of large trees on Washington avenue near north front street was referred to the park committee. The trees are said to be in a dangerous condition and liable to fall.

To Prepare Ordinance.
City Engineer Codwise was instructed to prepare an ordinance to establish grade for curbing gutters, flagging and sewerage of Thomas street from Railroad avenue to Broadway.

Retaining Wall Safe.
The clerk was instructed to notify Captain Kelly of No. 202 Broadway to fill in under the sidewalk in front of his property raising the walk to grade and to also plug up holes in the retaining wall. Investigation by the board had shown that the Broadway retaining wall reported unsafe was in safe condition.

Walks on Delaware Ave.
The board also instructed the clerk to notify property owners on Delaware avenue who have not already done so to lay flagging within thirty days.

An adjournment was then taken.

NO REPORT FROM GENERAL PERSHING

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, April 15.—The United States government is very seriously concerned over the missing of Carranzista troops along the lines of General Pershing's communication in Mexico. This feeling of unrest is added to by an absolute failure to get in touch with General Pershing, who is at the extreme front in person. Pershing has not reported in three days, officials say, and General Frederick Funston seems to be unable to get into touch with him. Army aviators are now trying to reach Pershing to find out just what is the matter.

It was admitted at the White House today that last night's midnight conference between Secretary of War Baker and President Wilson dealt with the reported movement of Carranzista troops. The fact that some 5,000 men, well armed and equipped, under the command of General Gomez, have been moved from Sonora to Chihuahua, where they are in position to try to cut off the American expedition, within the last 48 hours is declared by army officers to be an unfriendly act. Secretary Baker so told the president and it is expected that the state department now is seeking an explanation of the move.

The general tension over the Mexican situation was growing today. Officials frankly say that they fear trouble tomorrow as Sunday is a feast day in Mexico.

Despite the fact that officials deny the receipt of an official report of the Carranzista attack from a military commander there is a general disposition here to believe that this denial is of a diplomatic character. A very lengthy code message has reached Washington from Gen. Funston, which is believed to contain all of the facts that he has been able to gather. Army officers are convinced that the attack upon the Americans was unwarranted and was fostered by the Carranzista officials at Parral. Neither the White House nor the state department will discuss this point at all.

The Mexican embassy was today without any further advices regarding the Carranzista attack but it was insisted there that border reports that the American squadron had suffered severely in a second fight there can hardly be true. This opinion is based on the fact that communication with the Mexican commanders in Chihuahua is uninterrupted.

Administration officials were inclined to believe today that much of the Carranza opposition to the United States movements is influenced by General Obregon, the Mexican minister of war. He is notoriously anti-American in his feelings and ever since the first of the American troops crossed the border he has been insisting that First Chief demand their recall.

Unconfirmed reports were received during the morning by the state department from El Paso of a second battle at Parral. Officials stated that these reports were the same ones that were carried in press despatches out of El Paso last night. No official confirmation of them was obtainable. It was said.

BOMBS SEIZED AS EVIDENCE

BOMBS SEIZED BY NEW YORK POLICE AS EVIDENCE AGAINST GERMAN PLOTTERS.

This picture shows the bombs seized by the New York police as evidence against the four alleged German plotters, who are said to have confessed to conspiring to set Allied ships on fire at sea, and to having set incendiary bombs aboard certain ships carrying sugar to the Allies.

The bombs which German plotters made to put on sugar ships were constructed in this way: A strip of sheet lead was rolled into the shape of a cylinder, closed at one end, about five inches long, and perhaps an inch thick. Into about two-thirds of the length of the cylinder was packed an explosive. Into the rest of the lead container was inserted an aluminum capsule, closed at the inner end and with a hole for a cap in the other.

Into this capsule was poured an acid in diluted form, which would eat through the aluminum cover in four or five days. The capsule was finally sealed with a lead cap, on which the acid would have no effect.

The bomb was given stability by a large, irregular piece of tin soldered on one side of the lead container. When the acid ate through the aluminum and came into contact with the explosive the detonation took place.

A tailoring shop will occupy the rear of the building. The building will be built over the whole lot. Gerard F. Betz is the architect.

BOWERS DIVORCE SUIT.
One Witness Has Disappeared in the War in Europe.

Several cases came up before Judge Hasbrouck in special term at the court house this morning.

Mrs. Rose Slater Bowers, wife of Anthony Bowers of this city, brought an action for absolute divorce. The Bowers were married in this city on March 6, 1912, and had lived together until January of this year, when they separated and have not since lived together. Mrs. Bowers, who is a dressmaker, stated that she was not suing for alimony but could support herself.

In her action Mrs. Bowers alleges that Mr. Bowers in January of the present year violated the marriage vows and as a result seeks a separation. The act on which the action is brought on is claimed to have occurred at Marz's hotel, where Mr. Bowers had gone on a sleigh-ride with about thirty other men and women from this city. Two Poughkeepsie girls, who were described as being about twenty-three years old, figured in the escapade.

Chester Porter, who resides at 25 West Pierpont street, this city, and is employed at the lace mills, where Mr. Bowers works, was the only witness who appeared. Mrs. Bowers' brother, Joseph Slater, who was also a witness, has since left this country for the war in Europe. At the present time his whereabouts is not known. Shortly after the occurrence at Marz's, Slater joined a hospital ship which was sailing for the war zone and has not been heard from since. Judge N. Frank O'Reilly appeared for Mrs. Bowers.

Other Matters.
In the action brought by the France Manufacturing Company, an Illinois hardware company, against Oliver H. Perry of Tannersville, a motion to amend complaint was granted and papers submitted. Percy W. Decker appeared for the plaintiff and Edward W. Lasher for defendant.

In the matter of John Ruoff against Aaron Haines and wife of Lexington, Greene county, and Philomen A. Benjamin and Carl F. Ruoff of Bunker, an action for mortgage foreclosure, Judge Hasbrouck signed an order appointing Chris Flanagan referee.

Bicycle and Auto Collide.
Late Friday afternoon a Ford automobile owned by James Rion of Mt. Pleasant, and driven by his son, Charles, collided with the bicycle of Harris Ferro of West Hurley hurting him to the brick pavement. The young man was picked up and hurried to Dr. O'Meara's office where it was found he had sustained a fractured wrist. The collision occurred on Broadway near Railroad avenue. The injured man is employed at Palen's.

SHADER'S NOT THAT KIND.
Customers Already Know the Correct Rating of His Market.

Through an error made in typewriting the press copies of the report of Dr. Harold Clark, the city sanitary inspector, the meat market of Virgil Shader, on The Strand, was given a rating of 72 in the last report as published in The Freeman. Mr. Shader's rating should have been 95 and was giving at that figure in Dr. Clark's original report. Mr. Shader's customers know he doesn't keep the kind of a market that would be rated at 72, and this explanation is made only for the benefit of those who are not his customers and therefore do not know.

BOMBS SEIZED BY NEW YORK POLICE AS EVIDENCE AGAINST GERMAN PLOTTERS.

This picture shows the bombs seized by the New York police as evidence against the four alleged German plotters, who are said to have confessed to conspiring to set Allied ships on fire at sea, and to having set incendiary bombs aboard certain ships carrying sugar to the Allies.

The bombs which German plotters made to put on sugar ships were constructed in this way: A strip of sheet lead was rolled into the shape of a cylinder, closed at one end, about five inches long, and perhaps an inch thick. Into about two-thirds of the length of the cylinder was packed an explosive. Into the rest of the lead container was inserted an aluminum capsule, closed at the inner end and with a hole for a cap in the other.

Into this capsule was poured an acid in diluted form, which would eat through the aluminum cover in four or five days. The capsule was finally sealed with a lead cap, on which the acid would have no effect.

The bomb was given stability by a large, irregular piece of tin soldered on one side of the lead container. When the acid ate through the aluminum and came into contact with the explosive the detonation took place.

S. Weisberg, who purchased the Kelder homestead on Fair street on which contractors have been working for the past week, decided this morning to tear the building down entirely and erect a $12,000 store and office building on the site. The original plans called for two stores on the ground floor but these were changed this morning and three stores will be formed. The second floor will be made into six offices. A tailoring shop will occupy the rear of the building. The building will be built over the whole lot. Gerard F. Betz is the architect.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 15, 1916.

The high price of cotton is tempting southern growers to plant every available acre to the crop, an intention that is nothing more or less than a gamble as to the length of duration of the war. So long as the war lasts, so long will cotton maintain its present high level, but peace next year, with the over-production that seems certain in view of the proposed acreage, would mean an immediate drop to a level even lower than that which marked the beginning of the war. It is this speculative disposition on the part of farmers in the south that has roused the commercial organizations in many leading cities to action. Literature is being mailed in vast quantities and the banking and educational interests are being pressed into service to prevent the south from returning to the "one crop" idea in agriculture. The movement for more diversified crops has been most successful in the south for the few years it has been on trial. Business intelligence dictates a continuance of that policy, no matter how alluring the prevailing prices of cotton may be. Staking all on one crop whose salubility depends upon such an uncertain thing as war is too great a gamble for any section of the country to consider seriously.

A Montclair, N. J., despatch reports the theft of a copy of The Ulster County Gazette of January 4, 1900, and the news that there are two copies of The Gazette of that date in existence. One stolen copy belonged to a doctor, who became quizzical when he saw a copy exhibited in a drug store window. The reason there are not more copies of The Ulster County Gazette in Montclair is because most of the population are newcomers. Undoubtedly a few garrets if properly ransacked would turn up at least a bushel. With the price of waste paper increasing, collectors of The Gazette should get their copies together and sell them to a junk dealer. The proceeds would buy at least a shipload of supplies for European war sufferers, and the copies could be fished out of the junk pile and sold to collectors of antiques who never heard of The Gazette. Since the field for theft is so large with the quantities of The Gazette which already have turned up, it might be a good plan to adopt a Federal statute which would punish not the man or woman who stole a copy, but the person who failed to search for and steal one if found.

A smile occasionally must come to the faces of members of the older generation as they notice the extensive advertising of kerosene and lamps which is being done by the Standard Oil Company of New York. The columns of The Freeman have carried a considerable amount of such advertising which shows careful preparation and good taste in its display features. Saturated in the age of pine knots and candles for illumination came the petroleum products, principal among which was camphene. That product, however, was not very popular because of its high price and explosive propensities. The age of kerosene came next, and though illumination has been manufactured for many years kerosene has held its place. The development of electricity for lighting was the most rapid of any illuminant and city and county alike have shared in its benefits; wires have been strung everywhere and night is turned into day not only along city thoroughfares but in the dark recesses of humble country homes. Enthusiastic inventors and capitalists predicted the day was not far distant when every home would be supplied with electric current for lighting, heating and power, basing their predictions on the development of water power to generate electric current, but their predictions have been slow of fulfillment. Now kerosene and lamps are being advertised along with electric devices, and experiments are being conducted to discover a successful method for its utility in running automobiles.

Predictions by electric power promoters that kerosene would become but a memory within their own time take equal rank with predictions that automobiles would result in a dearth of horseflesh because there would be no demand for horses. Both kerosene and horses are receiving more advertising now than ever before—kerosene for sale, horses wanted. They have not become drugs on the market.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Was his crime premeditated?" "I don't think so. He thought it all out beforehand, you know."—Life.

"We want to introduce the blessings of civilization among you." "Yes," answered a savage. "The only trouble is that when you also introduce your improved war mechanism, so many of us won't live to enjoy them."—Washington Star.

"Why don't you go to work?" There is plenty of it to be had. I should think an able bodied chap like you would be ashamed to beg for a living." "My dear, begging is no snap. I have to work eight hours a day at it to get enough to live on."—Detroit Free Press.

Mrs. Eke—"I do wish my husband would get out of the stock market. His munition stocks slumped so badly that he passed up and down the room all last night wondering what to do." Mrs. Wye—"Walked the floor with his war babies, eh?"—Boston Transcript.

"Healthy place?" I should say so. We'd have a perfect record of no deaths, if it were not for the doctors." "So it's the doctors, not the place, that is the cause of mortality?" "None—place." "But you said—" "Yes—place does it. It's the doctors that die off—stave to death."—Judge.

"So you've decided to name your boy after George Washington?" "Yes. You see George has been dead a long time, and so many boys have been named after him who never amount to anything, that our son won't be conspicuous if he disappoints our fondest hopes and fails to become great."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Alive With Dead Germans. Sir Shamus O'Brien said at a Clan-na-Gael banquet in Chicago: "John Redmond has told us how nearly half a million Irishmen are fighting for Britain. I met one of the half million on a crutch in London. He described a glorious charge his regiment made. I then asked him how many dead Germans he answered, 'Why, Sir Shamus, the place was alive with 'em.'"—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Emperor and the Pencil.

It would appear from an incident reported from Vienna that an emperor is not to be trusted with a pencil. Some time ago, while holding court in the royal palace, overlooking the Danube, Francis Joseph received a Hungarian blacksmith, who desired to thank his Majesty for the decoration conferred upon him in recognition of his having invented an agricultural machine.

During the audience the blacksmith drew from his pocket a photograph of the emperor, and handing it to his Majesty, said: "May I ask Your Majesty for your autograph?" "I cannot give you my autograph at the present moment," said Francis Joseph, with a smile, "for I have neither pen nor pencil within reach." "I have brought a pencil with me," said the smith, handing it to the emperor.

Francis Joseph thereupon attached his signature to the photograph, and dismissed the smith with a smile and his customary inclination of the head. To the emperor's surprise, the smith did not retire. "Is there anything else I can do for you?" asked Francis Joseph.

"Yes, Your Majesty, I am waiting for my pencil."

The Emperor of Austria-Hungary had mechanically pocketed it, and he returned it with a hearty laugh.—Washington Star.

Gold Prize.

Amhasador Page, at an American dinner party in London, said of a very haughty exclusive duchess: "An American millionaire once took her down to dinner at a house in Belgrave square. Afterward a friend said to him drily: 'Well, did the warmth of the duchess's cordiality embarrass you?'"

"Oh, not at all," said the American. "Not at all. I made my pile of money manufacturing artificial ice."—London Times.

PURER WATER LESS TYPHOID

Since Filters Have Been Made Efficient Typhoid Rate Has Declined—Chemist Caird Charges Extra $16 For a Trip to Kingston.

Absolute purity of Kingston's water supply was a source of congratulation before the board of water commissioners at its meeting Friday afternoon in city hall. All of the commissioners were present and before them was the report of Chemist Caird showing the operation of the filtration plants for the laboratory year ending February 29.

That the city uses lots of water is made plain as the report shows an average daily consumption of 4,410,000 gallons or about 172 gallons per capita per day, "a very high per capita consumption," the report declares.

Operation of the laboratory, which began in July, 1912, has resulted in daily examination of the water since and the records "are most complete. Storage of the water in four reservoirs in the town of Woodstock, the large drainage area of 33 square miles and its exposure to pollution in the summer months, are mentioned together with the fact that frequent surveys are made for the protection of the watershed. The normal population of the drainage area is not more than 30 per square mile.

Description of the New York pressure type of filters, the high and low pressure systems, washing of the filters and their maximum capacity of 6,000,000 gallons per day are given. This last rate is greatly exceeded at times and the filters so over-worked, the report says, that additional units should be installed. There are now twelve filters with a sand area of 1,920 square feet.

How Water is Purified.

The uses of copper sulphate to kill the algae in the unfiltered water, subphate of alumina to remove the turbidity and calcium hypo-chlorite treatment for the filtered water are touched upon and the entire process of purification with tables showing the amounts treated and used is gone into thoroughly in the 13 typewritten sheets comprising the report.

The city's water supply is classed as "stored surface water," and its quality is studied in detail. The average turbidity was 72.9 per cent and the tables, the report states, show the value of a long storage period for the water.

Color and chlorine content with alkalinity are shown and the maximum bacteria per cubic centimeter in the high pressure unfiltered water was 57.85 per cent less and the average 41.88 per cent less than in the previous year. Improved bacterial efficiency is claimed in the fact that average bacteria was 96.8 per cent less in the high pressure filtered water than during the previous year. The bacterial efficiency of the low pressure system was 9 per cent greater than in the previous year.

Reduction in Typhoid.

A table is given showing the reduction in the death rate from typhoid fever from 274 per 100,000 population in 1907 to 7.6 per 100,000 in 1915. The typhoid rate for the two years before the water system was improved is given at 23.5 per 100,000, a reduction of 67.7 per cent in the death rate from this disease in the year 1915. The report says: "It is not the intention to convey the idea that the typhoid fever in Kingston has been due to the quality of the water supply, but there is no question but that there has been a reduction in the typhoid fever death rate since the quality of the water was improved."

Improvements at the filter plant due to the new heating system and the gas system in the laboratory are mentioned and installation of at least four more filter units is recommended so that the filters can be washed with filtered water.

Blamed It All On Milk.

The state department of health's favorable reports upon investigations of the Kingston system are cited in conclusion.

It was evident that the commissioners agreed with Chemist Caird that the typhoid fever statistics were not chargeable to the water supply, it being the outspoken opinion of several that the milk supply had been responsible for the figures of several years ago in this respect. Milk as a food is far from being the equal of the water furnished by the city judging from the expressions of several of the commissioners.

Commissioner Chandler asked if the water had been tested for free ammonia and after discussion, Commissioner Canfield moved that a chemical analysis of the water supply be made at least once a year for nitrates or nitrites of ammonia at the Ulster county bacteriological laboratory. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Chandler and carried unanimously.

That "Indigestion" Call.

Some discussion came up over the bill of Chemist Caird which included an item of $16 for a personal inspection. Commissioner Chandler demanding to know if the chemist had to be paid extra in addition to his $100 a month. Commissioner Harrison explained that this visit was extra when the chemist investigated the recent disturbance with the supply.

"When the water had dyspepsia?" asked President Hauck.

"Indigestion, I guess, but they have got to show me," retorted Mr. Harrison.

Superintendent Harrison then gave a demonstration of the new pipe locating device and leak-detecting apparatus.

An application from Joseph Rehn for a meter at his home in Pine street was granted.

Meters Are a Problem.

This was followed by a general discussion of the meters placed by the city which now owns about 130 of these, the same being charged to the consumer at the installation and the price afterward rebated. About a half dozen meters freeze during the winter and the city department sometimes finds difficulty in collecting for the repairs. It was also learned that in a few cases where a store has a house in connection both use one meter. Another man has a meter which is taken out through the winter because of the danger of freezing. In some cities consumers are compelled to buy their meter at cost from the water department and have a plumber install same, the meter remaining the consumer's property.

Just what course the water board will take in the premises was not decided, the matter of meters being waived finally to be taken up with the revision or water rates soon to be made.

Make Out Report Later.

The same action was taken with respect to an application from E. G. Woodling, who asked the commission if it desired to prepare data and financial statement for a report similar to that issued in 1909 and 1912. The Chamber of Commerce and others are also anxious to have some new reports issued and the commission plans to do so once the water rates are revised.

Gregory & Company, as the lowest bidder under the plans and specifications for the proposed steel furniture, was awarded the contract for the same. That the water office is the only part of the city hall neglected in the renovation program was pointed out by Superintendent Harrison, who said the cracks in the plaster made the ceiling dangerous. On motion of Commissioner Chandler, seconded by Mr. Harrison, the secretary was directed to notify the common council of the trouble and ask that it be remedied.

Harrison Stuck in Snow.

Superintendent Harrison was authorized to build an eight foot fence around the yard adjoining the department barn and also to sell the stoves at the filter house, where a new heating system has taken the place of coal and oil stoves. It was thought that some of the farmers in the neighborhood would be prospective customers but the fall of the year was fixed as the better time for activity on the part of this branch of the sales department.

Setting of telephone poles to connect with the telephone company's line has been held up by the snow, drifts being higher than Superintendent Harrison's head, he declared, as late as Wednesday. Not only that but he was stuck in the drifts three times and had to dig himself out. The board accepted the explanation and the poles will be set later.

Adjournment was taken later, subject to the call of the chair.

Wasted Steam.

"A man dat argues jes' fo' de sake of talkin'," said Uncle Eben, "is like an engineer dat uses up all his steam blowin' de whistle."

Tea and Coffee Stains.
 Old tea and coffee stains are sometimes extremely obstinate and require great pains to remove. Wet the stains in cold water, then soak them in pure glycerin, wash out in lukewarm water and iron on the wrong side until dry. Or mix one tablespoonful of salt with a cupful of soft soap, rub on the spots and lay articles on the grass or in the sun to bleach. Wet the spots occasionally. The natural bleaching power of the sun will often fade out coffee or tea spots if subjected to it for a considerable length of time.

Consumption Among the Jews.
 According to Dr. S. Kreinerman of Basel, Switzerland, Jews have a physical predisposition to diseases of the lungs, but they everywhere show a considerably lower morbidity and mortality from consumption than are found among Gentiles. He attributes this to their temperance; to a relative immunity acquired through the weaker of their race having succumbed in earlier generations; to their ritual observance of cleanliness and to the high esteem in which the physician is held among them.

Views of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies.

Lebanon Lodge, No. 55, Free Sons of Israel; meets Sunday at No. 50 Abeel street.

A boom for Henry Kohl of Newburgh, as a candidate for president of the State Association of Elks was started Thursday evening at the session of Kingston Lodge, B. P. O. E.

All arrangements have been perfected for the pilgrimage to the Masonic Home tomorrow by the Masons of the Fifteenth district and from indications it is expected that nearly 500 will go. The lodges have chartered a special train which will leave Kingston at 9:10 tomorrow morning stopping at Saugerties, Catskill, Coxsack and Ravena. The train will go via West Shore and stop direct at the Masonic Home arriving there at about 1 o'clock. At 2 o'clock an entertainment will be given to the children of the home to be assisted by the ladies of the chapter and an opportunity will be given to inspect to buildings and property; trolleys will then convey them into the city of Utica, where supper may be had. The special train will leave the New York Central Station in the city of Utica at 7 o'clock and return via the central division arriving at Kingston about 11 o'clock. Owing to the demand, two parlor cars have been ordered and chairs have been reserved for a great many. Refreshments will be served on board in charge of Davis & Freer, proprietors of the Opera Lunch, at reasonable charge and no efforts have been spared to make the trip a comfortable and enjoyable one. Brothers are urged to purchase tickets in advance which will be exchanged on train.

Wind Holds Up Tow.

The high wind today interferred with navigation and the down tow from Albany was held up at Kingston Point until late this afternoon. The tow reached Rondout early this morning and the wind increased to such volume that it was forced to tie up and wait until ebb tide this afternoon before proceeding down the river. The steam yacht Shultz, running between Rondout and Eddyville, also had trouble making her trips.

Young Centrals' Dance.
The Young Centrals' Basketball Club will hold their first annual dance at the Holy Cross parish house on Friday evening, April 28. Tickets can be purchased from the members of the club and a large crowd is anticipated as the tickets are selling very rapidly. McLean's orchestra will furnish the latest dance music for the occasion and a good time is assured for those who will attend.

Welsh Red Indians.
Eight or nine hundred years ago a band of adventurous Welshmen landed on the American coast and planted a colony. They never went back, and, according to Mr. James McLaughlin in "My Friend the Indian," "became in some sort the ancestors of a tribe of Indians, for the Mandans are thought by some writers to be the descendants of the lost Welshmen. Some philologists have endeavored to prove this to their own satisfaction, and it is said that the Mandans to this day retain in their vocabulary a great many distinctly Welsh words. And for hundreds of years they maintained physical and mental characteristics that have raised them above their fellows."

Popular Jokes.
The most popular joke which has been published in any language in the history of the world is stated to be that which appeared in an obscure corner of the Punch almanac for 1845. It read, "Advice to persons about to marry—Don't!" It would be interesting to know who was its author. Another, founded on a similar subject, was the rounded on a similar subject, was the "Advice to persons who have fallen in love—Fall out." One of the most brilliant things that ever appeared in our contemporary was the brief dialogue between an inquiring child and his impatient parent: "What is mind?" "No matter." "What is matter?" "Never mind."—Westminster Gazette.

KINGSTON HIGH SCHOOL MIDGET BASKETBALL TEAM, CHAMPIONS OF THE HUDSON VALLEY.

Second row, sitting—Quick, sub; Kemble, sub; Kirchner, guard and manager; Schoonmaker, forward and captain; Martin, forward; Diamond, forward. Rear row, standing—Weister, center; Coach Schumaker; Dwyer, guard; and Thompson, substitute center.

SUMMARY OF MIDGETS' SEASON

The Midgets have completed their season, and brought home another championship. Both of which acts were at first not even dreamed of, for the Midgets did not at first expect to have any season, as they were merely known as the Thursday afternoon basketball squad of the high school, but skill and agility developed rapidly among these boys of small stature under the direction of their coach, Mr. Schumaker, that someone conceived the idea of their organizing, and playing inter-scholastic basketball. They did so on January 13, and elected John Schoonmaker, Jr., as captain, and Edward Kirchner, manager.

Then began their season during which they suffered only one defeat, and for which they later got ample satisfaction. Their playing has seldom shown up many stars, for the squad in a sense is made up of all stars. Their playing has usually shown wonderful team work, and their accuracy in shooting baskets has for the most part been remarkable.

As has been said, the Midgets have suffered only one defeat this season, and that was paid back. The Hudson Y. M. C. A. team was the guilty party, and it was the only out of town team that did not greatly outweigh the local team. Also most of the other teams from this city with which the Midgets have played have also had the advantage of weight over the little H. S. fellows. In the summary of their games given below it will be noticed that the Midgets scored during their season 759 points against the 317 of their opponents: Midgets, 12, No. 7 School, 23. Here.

Midgets, 38; Y. M. C. A. Student B, 14. Here.

Midgets, 40; Hudson Y. M., 7. Here.

Midgets, 48; Saugerties, Jr.'s, 10. Here.

The Midget squad has been a large one throughout the season, and the playing of the different men has been so nearly equal that it is hard to tell who really constitute the regular team, but the first five players mentioned in the summary of individual playing have been in the lineup the greatest number of times, and are considered the regular team. In fact, the substitutes have been so good to take the places of the regulars that there were very few games in the whole season during which Mr. Schumaker did not replace four or five men, and it was very seldom that this second line-up which was put in that everyone might have an equal chance, did not pile up proportionately as big a score as the regulars. Someone ventured the opinion at one time that the Midgets did not have the wind to play a whole game, and that they had to be replaced, but this was immediately disproved by having the same five play a whole game in which they kept up the good work to the last minute. The individual scoring:

	F.B.	F.P.	T.P.
Martin, L. F.	70	7	147
Diamond, R. F.	54	16	124
Weister, C.	20	7	47
Kirchner, R. G.	33	26	92
Dwyer, L. G.	17	1	35
McAndrew, F. G.	43	7	92

Becker, F.	2	0	4
Cashin, F.	2	4	8
Hallinan, C.	10	0	20
Totals	343	73	759

This year's Midget team has surely set an excellent standard, and one that will be hard to maintain from year to year. There has not been an athlete team in Kingston High School during its existence which cannot justly lay claim to a championship. The football varsity had a no defeat season, and tackled Troy, Albany, Port Jervis and many others in the bargain. Then the girls' basketball team cleaned up all the teams they could find in the Hudson valley, and claimed the championship for the same. Next the Boys' Varsity Basketball Team went through a successful season with only two defeats for which they in turn got victories, and last come the Midgets who have done the varsity only better by getting beaten only once, and by returning the compliment with interest.

The Midgets issued a challenge in the papers, as well as challenging many teams by letter, so there can be no doubt of their leadership in the Hudson Valley. There was excellent material for their coach to make a good team of, but Mr. Schumaker must justly be praised along with the team, for surely Kingston could not have sprung from a disputed place in the ranks to unquestioned leadership without some new factor taking a hand. There are two new factors, the uniting of Ulster and Kingston academics, the complete coalition of which is remarkable, and decidedly admirable, and the other factor in athletics is Mr. Schumaker. The benefits of the first factor are unquestionable, and the coach will no doubt continue to be praised so long as winning teams are produced which he coaches.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, April 15.—The new owners of the Cleveland club made a financial fizzle if they paid $50,000—or anything near that sum—for Tris Speaker.

The outfielding star is one of the greatest players in the game—but he isn't worth $50,000 to the Indians. His presence on the team isn't going to put it in a paucant fight. The rest of the outfit is so inferior that the team with Speaker as one part of it, is outclassed. Speaker is a drawing card—but not $50,000 worth.

Speaker is growing old. He was born on August 24, 1883. That makes him almost 33 years old, an age beyond the prime of any ball player. Speaker may have three or four years of big league usefulness left in his system—but not much more.

And $50,000 doesn't represent the entire cost of Speaker. The Indians gave two players in addition to the cash. Those players can be figured as being worth $3,000 each, at least. Speaker's salary for the next two years probably will average $12,000, making a grand total of $30,000 that Speaker will cost the Indian owners. It's too much, Oscar—to much.

Collins Case Different.

Eddie Collins cost the White Sox something like $50,000. But that was a fairly wise investment. Collins in the lineup, made the team a pennant contender in 1915, and it makes it a certain matter for bunting honors in 1916. Any one player who can put a team in a championship fight is worth almost any reasonable price.

Furthermore, Collins was only 27 years old when the White Sox secured him—and he was as bright a star in his particular division as is Speaker. Collins, being five years younger than Speaker should have five years more of big league baseball before him than Speaker.

Other Clubs Benefit.

As we view the situation, the sale of Speaker benefits the White Sox, Tigers, Yankees and Browns more than it does anyone else. True, the Red Sox are benefited $50,000 in cash and two players—but their chances for pennant honors are much slimmer without Speaker.

The difference between a pennant winner and a runner-up is from $75,000 to $150,000. Of course, the Sox may win without Speaker—but it's doubtful. His great batting and fielding usually win—unaided—at least 10 games per season. Remove 10 victories from the 1915 total of the Red Sox, apply them to the losing side—and the team would have finished third in the 1915 race.

The Red Sox won the 1915 American League championship by a margin of 2½ games. Without Speaker they never would have won. Minus the services of Speaker this year, the outlook for the Red Sox is in no wise bright.

The weakening of the Red Sox by the loss of Speaker, enhances the chances of the four other teams that were conceded a chance for the honors. It brings the Sox nearer to—or perhaps below—the level of the Yankees, Browns, White Sox and Tigers.

In the "bookie" wagering before the Speaker sale, the Red Sox were 5 to 5 favorites. Speaker's absence has shifted the figures to 4 to 1—and there isn't much Red Sox money being offered.

Of course, the Red Sox can't be counted out merely because they sold Speaker. But they can be described as "in a groggy condition."

Prohibitionists Meet.

A county committee of the Prohibition party held its meeting Friday afternoon at the court house for the purpose of organizing and electing officers. John L. Schultz of Keopus was elected chairman, Dr. C. O. Sahler first vice-chairman, the Rev. E. N. F. Blakney of Pine Hill second vice-chairman and the Rev. Dr. P. N. Chase secretary and treasurer. The work for the coming year was talked over and plans made for an aggressive campaign this season. The party intended to carry on a campaign for the winning of at least one more town to their ranks this fall. Beside the election of officers and the filling of vacancies in the committee, the regular routine business was transacted. There was an exceptionally large attendance, considering the stormy condition of the weather.
